HELLO FROM THE COM PROJECT!

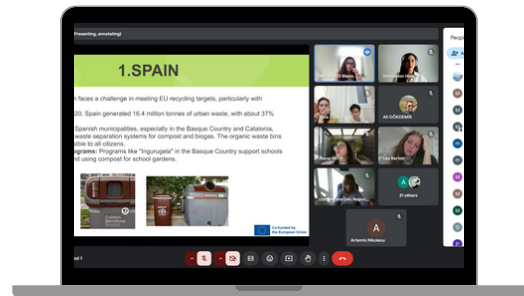

We are thrilled to share some exciting updates and achievements from the last month. Here's what's been happening:

TWO SUCCESSFUL ONLINE WORKSHOPS

This month, we hosted two interactive workshops titled "Organic Waste and Circularity in My Community." Both workshops brought together participants from schools, communities, and experts to discuss ways we can all manage organic waste better and embrace circularity.

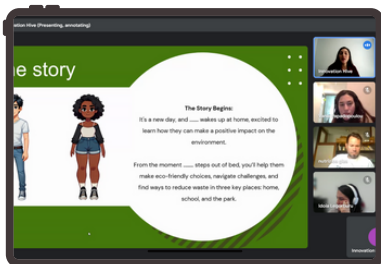

1st Workshop – November 21, 2024

The first workshop introduced participants to the COM project and key topics like understanding organic waste. We had a lively ice-breaking activity and an engaging panel discussion. The session ended with reflections and practical tips for everyday life.

2nd Workshop – November 27, 2024

Our second workshop expanded on the discussions and featured more in-depth interactive sessions. Participants shared their ideas and experiences in waste management, creating a space for collaboration and inspiration.

THE COM GAME IS LIVE!

We're excited to announce that the COM Game is now live and available for everyone! The game is designed to teach students and families how to manage organic waste in a fun and interactive way.

Play the game now and learn while having fun: COM Game

COM TOOLKIT – YOUR GO-TO RESOURCE

The COM Toolkit is now available in English on our platform! It includes everything you need to learn about waste management and sustainability:

- A Policy Paper on waste management in the EU and partner countries.
- An Assessment Report on the piloting workshops conducted in schools.
- Extra materials and resources for students and teachers.

GREAT NEWS | WHAT IS COMING?

All the materials, including the game, will soon be available in all project languages! Stay tuned for updates.
